ONE OF THE PROJECTS displayed at last year's Science Fair at Antioch High School.

Science Fair At A. H. S.

To date, there are about 100 entries in the Science Fair to be held at the Antioch High School on Friday evening, March 8.

About 25 judges have been lined up to judge the projects, ranging through physics, chemistry, biology, conservation, zoology, aeronautics and botany. Each judge will have special knowledge in the field he judges.

Contestants are drawn from grade schools in the area and the high school.

Ten winners will be chosen from the many exhibits Friday evening. These will be entered in the District meet at Lake Forest College, to be held in about a month. Winners of the District Meet will go to Champaign, where their projects will compete with winners from other areas in the Science Fair at the new Field House at the University.

Purpose of the Fair is to allow students to exhibit their special interest in the field of science.

William Seemann is sponsor of the Science Club at Antioch High School. Willette Monnier is president of the club, and chairman of the Fair is Greg McBain.

Display in Window for 4-H Week

Each pupil's project is allowed to take up a space 4 feet x 2 1/2 feet. Height of the project is not restricted. Pupils put a great deal of time, study and research into their projects, and their themes are not always conventional ones. Willette Monnier, this year's club president, won a first prize at the state level last year with her exhibit on embalming. Her project this year will be on gallstones.

The Fair is open to the public. Open House will start at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym.

It's In Color!

The Shoppers Guide, in tune with the times, has bloomed into spring color this week. Most of the copies are in a delicate yellow—would you call it a jonquil shade?

How do you like our new Spring dress? We think it's attractive and a bit more readable. We'll be happy to have readers' comments on the new color.

Art Show Mar. 26-27

Amateur artists in Lake County are invited to submit their original paintings and other art items in the fifth Lake County Town and Country Art Show. The show will be held in the Farm Bureau Building on the Lake County fairgrounds, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 26 and 27. It will be open to the public from 1 to 10 p.m.

Two separate exhibits will be held, including those of artists of high school age and older, and those below high school.

A complete list of rules and procedures can be obtained by writing farm adviser Ray T. Nicholas, P. O. Box 267, or Home Adviser, Helen Volk, P. O. Box 356, Grayslake, Illinois.

This show is sponsored by the Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Service of Lake County.

George Boyd, Candidate for County Supervisor

George W. Boyd, Antioch, is a candidate for the office of County Supervisor, running on an independent ticket.

George is running for office as "a twenty-four hour a day supervisor." He says he has no other business interests which will interfere with his duties of being a good public servant to the people. He will be a supervisor, he says, who can live on the salary the office pays. He will be a supervisor completely independent of any one except taxpayers of Antioch Township.

George feels that the office of County Supervisor is as important to the people of Antioch Township as any State or County office. This office, he says, plays a big part in the lives of all of us, so he urges everyone to vote in the coming election regardless of their choice for the office.

George feels that the proposed zoning ordinances are an important issue in the campaign. He says that if elected he will call for a referendum vote by the people on this issue. The taxpayers should be warned of the dangerous of the proposed ordinance, he says, and the decision to approve or reject the ordinance should be up to them. "That is the only American way," he says, "to truly give the people a square deal."

On the subject of relief administration, Mr. Boyd says no one should go hungry. All relief requests should be carefully checked, and help given when needed. But he does not believe in "give-away" plans.

George believes that a representative from each newspaper should be present at all County Board meetings, and should give the truth of all actions taken.

Village Board Approves Apartment House Site

Soil Mapping Slated in Three Townships

Warren, Lake Villa, and a portion of Avon Townships have been slated as the first areas to be soil mapped under the County soil mapping program which was approved last fall by the Lake County Board of Supervisors.

This was announced by Kenneth Henke, Chairman of the Building and Zoning Committee of the County Board, whose committee was instrumental in working out this arrangement with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. In determining the areas to be mapped the following factors were considered: Areas that most urgently need information in order to help make some planning and/or zoning decisions; secondly, to obtain information about soil types adjacent to the Des Plaines River and to correlate this information with the Flood Hazard Mapping Program which will include another quadrangle in the Des-Plaines River Valley in 1963. Thirdly, we want to map areas which adjoin previously mapped land. Libertyville Township was mapped in 1962, Henke pointed out.

It is the plan to map approximately 50,000 acres in the summer of 1963, and to map an additional amount each year for the next four years, at which time the job is scheduled to be completed. The U. S. Soil Conservation Service will assign four or five men to this job during July and August. They will walk over all the land of these townships and take soil borings to a depth of five feet to determine the types of soil and determine the amount of erosion that has taken place. They will carry with them a hand level which will be used to measure the slope conditions, and all of this information about the soils will be recorded on aerial photographs. The flight photos which were made in September of 1961 will be used as a base map for this project.

During the fall and winter months the Soil Scientists will develop interpretative information about the soils they mapped during the year. This information will be presented in the form of a report so that it is available for governmental officials and the local people to use.

Similar types of reports have been released in Elmhurst and Vernon Townships, and the Libertyville Township report will be available in late spring or early summer.

is the only petition filed to date.

At Grass Lake School, with two vacancies coming up, incumbents Charlotte Queen and Robert Hart have filed petitions.

Last date for filing petitions of candidacy is March 23. Elections for school board members will be held on April 13.

Tailor Shop Has New Owner

Mrs. Roy Pearcey, former operator of the Antioch Cleaners on Lake Avenue, has taken over the tailor shop in the parking lot at the rear of the One-Hour Martinizing Cleaners on Lake St.

Mrs. Pearcey is well-known in Antioch from her many years in the dry-cleaning business.

The shop will be run in conjunction with the One-Hour Martinizing Cleaners. Mrs. Pearcey says she has many years of experience in alterations, and one of her specialties will be shortening knitted dresses.

Entrance to the shop, which was recently S & S Tailors, is on Victoria St. Customers can either go directly to the shop or leave work at the One-Hour Cleaners.

Rector of St. Benedict Dies

A solemn requiem mass was offered for Fr. Benedict LaFramboise, O.S.B., by Abbott Richard Felix, O.S.B., in the abbey chapel at Benet Lake, Wisconsin, on March 5. Fr. Benedict died in St. Catherine's Hospital, Kenosha, on March 2 after a long illness. He was 39 years old. Burial was in the abbey cemetery.

Father Benedict was the first to make his religious vows at St. Benedict's Abbey, Benet Lake. He did four years of post-graduate work in Theology at the Benedictine College of St. Anselm in Rome. On his return to the U. S. he served as novice master and later was the first superior of Glastonbury Monastery in Hingham, Massachusetts. At the time of his death he was the rector of the seminary at Benet Lake.

Fr. Benedict is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary LaFramboise of Columbus, O., as well as by four brothers and two sisters.

Grade School Teams Play Tournament

The six teams of the Lakes Basketball Conference will play their tournament games on March 8 and 9 at the Grant High School.

On Friday, March 8, starting at 7 p.m., Channel Lake will play Fremont, followed by a game between Big Hollow and Harrison. On Saturday, March 9, Oakland will play the winner of the first Friday night game, following which Johnsbury will play Friday's winner of the second game. Saturday night's games will decide first, second, third and fourth place winners.

Trophies will be presented to the winners. Trophies will also go to the best cheerleading team.

Tag Days, Village Park, Site Of Apartment House Approved

Antioch's Village Board heard proposals and listened to progress reports on a variety of subjects at their meeting on Tuesday night, March 5. Some projects were approved, some tabled for further investigation.

Dr. George Jensen presented tentative plans to the board for the improvement of Williams Park, the village park area which includes the swimming pool. The plans are long-range and subject to change, with two tennis courts the first project to be considered. Dr. Jensen said that J. C. Schulte and Jim McMillen surveyed the park area and drew up plans on their own time to aid in furthering a start of consideration of the project. Work on the park would probably proceed slowly for several years. Dr. Jensen stressed, and would of course be the responsibility of the village, The Lions Club, who lease the land for the swimming pool, are also interested in the project. The Village Board tabled the plans for consideration. A copy of the plans is at the village hall for inspection by anyone interested.

Charles Cernak, of Cernak Real Estate, presented plans to the board for an apartment house to be erected at the northeast corner of Lake Avenue and Tiffany Road. The site was approved by the board, with tentative acceptance of the proposed plans pending more detailed plans.

Mrs. H. Olson, representing the Antioch Garden Club, asked permission for Garden Club members to install tiles spaced along Main Street's sidewalks in which flowering plants would be planted for beautification of the village streets. The Board granted permission.

It was announced that Jim

It was announced that work on the alley south of the High school would start as soon as weather permitted.

Edward Jacobs, village attorney, was instructed to draw up an ordinance governing the use of vending machines in the village. It was reported that several villages have had trouble with various machines, vending foodstuffs, where the village had no ordinance providing for supervision of such machines.

Edgar Simonsen reported that there had been several inquiries as to the roller rink operating without a sprinkling system, which had first been considered necessary. He reported that state officials had O.K'd use of the building as long as no combustible materials were stored, and adequate exits and fire extinguishers were provided.

Midwest Construction asked that the retailer being held by the board to insure satisfactory work be released. The board refused pending final approval of the work.

The Antioch Woman's Club presented a request that Channel 11 be allowed to hold a tag day in the village on Saturday, March 9. The request was granted.

Ad History Made By Preprints

You will find an ad for Massey Ferguson farm equipment in the pages of this paper this week. The ad is in color.

Advertising history is being made by these color ads. This ad is appearing in approximately 500 newspapers, whose average circulation is about 4,000.

Hi-Fi Preprints were developed in New York City. The colored advertising is printed beforehand like wallpaper in a continuous design. The preprinted material is shipped to newspapers who run it into their presses, printing the reverse side in the normal way but leaving the front side printing in beautiful, magazine-quality color.

Lever Brothers, one of the early users of Preprints, are quoted as saying they had not seen such an effective tool for creating consumer awareness of a product since the early days of TV.

Roller Rink Open Four Nights

The Roller Rink in Antioch on Broadway, which had its Grand Opening on Feb. 22, is now open on Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, the proprietor, James Ferrier, announced.

Wednesday and Sunday nights the rink is open from 7-10 p.m. and on Friday and Saturday from 7-11 p.m. There are also matinees from 1-4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

VIRGINIA WHITE, MARY PAULSON and Jane Bonner work on a display for 4-H week (March 2 thru 9) in the window of Barnstable's Department Store in Antioch.

They'll Huff and They'll Puff - And, Maybe, They'll Win

The Antioch Business Men will bring back days gone by Saturday night when they take to the hard court against the High School faculty in their annual benefit basketball game.

Members of the high school varsity team, which just completed their season last week, may get a look at such antiquities as the two handed set shot, the under-handed free throw and the 32 minute stall.

It will be a "slightly" over weight, and under trained group representing the business men when they take the floor Saturday, but a spokesman for the team said "we have a few secret plays up our sleeve that should overcome our weight disadvantage."

The program is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. with a preliminary game between the Antioch Grade School and the Lake Villa Grade School. The "main event" of the evening will start at 8 p.m.

During halftime of the faculty game the crowd will be entertained by the Antioch High School Swing Choir, under Della Mae Tronchuk, and the High School Dance Band under Joe Rush.

The lineup for the business men will include such notables as Bob Lubkeman. Bob, with the aid of a step ladder, will demonstrate his famous "dunk shot." Jerry Staffon will lay down his clips long enough to give the fans a look at a real "hook shot."

Bob "Stuffer" Wilton will be making what may be his last appearance on the Antioch court. Rumor has it that Bob plans to retire after this season. Fred Stahmer will be making a comeback after many years absence from the Sequoit basketball picture. Fred will have an added incentive as he will be competing against his former teammate and brother, Bruce Stahmer.

Roger Andrews of the faculty said they plan to start with their defensive unit this year. Sparking this unit will be high scoring Bernie Fosmark and rebounding ace Warren Polley. Rounding out the starting team will be Duane Foster, Larry Eggleston and Bill Neuman.

"Should this team fail to stop the business men's attack, we plan to go with our offensive unit," Andrews said. The business men will be hard pressed to stop Andrews' hard driving, full twisting, under-handed lay-up from the free-throwing line.

In the back court will be playmakers Doug Risberg and Jim Erdman. Completing the unit, Bruce Stahmer will give them a little weight under the boards. Ward Lear, suffering from an old ankle injury, is a doubtful starter.

The program is being put on for the benefit of the Athletic department of the high school and all proceeds from this year's event will go toward the purchase of a much needed motion picture camera.

Films of the school's athletic contests will be used to aid boys in getting athletic scholarships, and for scouting purposes. The films will also be available to Church and service groups for program meetings and the equipment can be used by other departments of the school.

Starting line-ups for the Antioch Grade School and the Lake Villa Grade School were announced by their respective coaches, Harland Ware and Joe Pleviak.

For Antioch: G. Oftedahl, F. Gras, A. Lubkeman, R. Zeman, and J. Tegelman. For Lake Villa: J. Garrett, B. Schoffel, L. Clark, B. Hockmuth, and G. Fee.

School Board Candidates

First date for filing of petitions for candidacy for members of the various school boards in the area was February 27. So far, little competition for the posts has developed.

Dr. Richard Ripley, secretary of the Antioch High School Board, reports that three candidates have filed for the two three-year terms on the High School Board, and one for the 2-year unexpired term. For the two three-year terms, petitions have been filed by incumbents Bob Denman and Bill Cain, and by Leslie Gilmore. Lorraine Cheetham, who had been appointed to temporarily fill the two year term, has filed the only petition to date for this vacancy.

At the Antioch Grade School, two three-year terms and one one-year term are to be filled. Three candidates have filed for the three-year terms—incumbents Elroy K. Anderson and Leslie W. Sorenson, and Robert Sonnen, who has been filling the unexpired term of Wesley Camp. No petitions have been filed for the unexpired term.

At Channel Lake School, four petitions have been taken out for board members—by Richard Harland, Ray Enzenbacher, James Waters and Paul Zeien, Jr. Waters

EDITORIAL

Alas! No More Bird Baths!

There are several provisions and restrictions in the proposed zoning ordinances which have undoubtedly gone unnoticed by even those who have studied the book rather closely.

One which we noticed in our perusal of some of the sections is under "Standards For Conditional and Special Uses" on Page 3-68, under 4) Conservation Club—

(a) The proposed site shall contain not less than one hundred (100) acres.

On page E-5, a section deals with customary home occupations. Provision b) of this section lists the occupations permitted as home occupations. Included is this provision — "Physician's, dentist's, and other licensed medical practitioner's office for consultation and emergency treatment, but not for the general practice of the profession."

This clearly does away with any beginning medical practitioner who may hope to use his home as an office until he establishes a practice.

The ordinances have their humorous side, in places, if you can forget for a moment that these restrictions will become part of the law of the land if they're approved by the Board of Supervisors.

On Page E-1, under Miscellaneous, Number 1 covers Accessory uses of dwellings. The introductory paragraph reads "The uses of land, buildings, and other structures permitted in each of the zones established by this Ordinance are designated by listing the principal uses permitted. In addition to such principal uses, it is the intent of this section to regulate uses customarily incidental to any principal use permitted in the zone."

Under b, following this paragraph, are listed the Permitted Accessory Uses For Dwellings:

- Shelter to house animal pets, but not in such a manner as to constitute a commercial operation.
- Children's playhouse and playground equipment.
- Dwelling for domestic servants.
- Incinerator, incidental to the principal use only.
- Moorage or boat house for private pleasure boat.
- Private greenhouse, vegetable, fruit, or flower garden, from which no products are sold or offered for sale.
- Private garage, not to exceed the following capacity (this is followed by listing of the size garage allowed for single-family etc. dwellings)
- Private swimming pool and bath house.
- Shed for the storage of maintenance or recreation equipment used on the premises.

What, no barbecue pits? No bird baths? Flower gardens are allowed for, but how about posts for Mrs. Lake County's clothesline? The kids are allowed a playhouse. Are we allowed to install one of those pre-fabricated screen summer houses?

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

A Governor's Conference on Literacy and Learning will be held in Chicago on March 23 and 24 to map another campaign in the fight against unemployment and relief.

The struggle for a fuller prosperity for all the people of Illinois is one of a great many facets, as I outlined to the General Assembly in my message of two months ago. One important segment of this grand effort is the education of our citizens.

Despite the fact that our changing technology requires workers with more education than ever before in history, more than 30 per cent of our youth in Illinois drop out of school before High School graduation.

This stunning fact led me to recommend to the legislature that the compulsory school age be increased from 16 to 17 years, or high school graduation, which ever comes sooner. The school dropout problem cannot be solved however, by legislative action alone. The problem is too broad and deep, and so government must search for all possible avenues to combat the dropout problem which results in unemployment, relief and delinquency.

The mission of the Governor's Conference on Literacy and Learning is to fashion a statewide organization of students, educators, industrialists, and labor and civic leaders, to work with young people whose lack of an education denies them job opportunities.

The program will be built on the experience of a student tutoring project of

THE ANTIOCH NEWS 2

THURS. MARCH 7, 1963

By Pearl Kapell

Sometimes it seems as though the people of this great country can afford almost anything as long as it's a luxury, but have no money left for the necessities.

When governments, state or local, find themselves in financial trouble, where do they immediately cut down? Aid to the needy, of course.

There are probably a hundred other places where economy could be practiced with no one suffering any real privation. But these are pet projects of powerful groups, or would involve firing someone who has "political clout."

So those who can not make their protests felt have their stipend cut down or lose it completely on some technicality.

Probably there is some misuse of relief funds. Probably many of them are lacking in character. But just as certainly, most of them lead miserable lives, with little prospect of ever realizing any dreams they may have of really bettering their conditions.

The reason they find themselves in the unenviable position of being recipients of very uncertain charity are probably almost as many as the families themselves. You can cite a few general reasons—lack of education, illness, shiftlessness—which may seem to apply to a great many. But if you heard the full story of most you'd find it was not one failing or one unfortunate trick of fate that put them where they are.

The great majority of American taxpayers are reasonably secure in a life far more affluent than a relief client. Many may live from paycheck to paycheck, and find it hard to meet their bills. But they've never known the feeling of being without a roof over their heads, nor been hungry and not knowing where their next meal was coming from.

We all know these things can and do happen to other people. But, with no personal experience, it's easy to shrug these happenings off as being the result of laziness, stupidity, shiftlessness.

It's much easier to dismiss them quickly from our minds in this way, too. No one really likes to contemplate real human suffering. And relief is expensive.

But the poor we have always with us, and always will have. And the sick and incompetent, the handicapped and the mentally ill.

Would anyone freely choose to be one of these? Would you be willing to give up your intelligence, your ambition, your education, your health, so that you could join the ranks of the reliefers?

And if you wouldn't, you're not really so sure, in your heart, that reliefers are living as high off the hog as some would have us believe, are you?

Holding down taxes is fine. Fighting corruption and waste is praiseworthy, whether it's on the relief rolls or in padded highway construction.

But we don't stop building roads because someone uncovers fraud in the construction of a highway. Neither do we cut down the appropriation for building more.

So let's not thoughtlessly join the pack in crying to have relief rolls cut down. Better, even, to close our eyes to a little waste in this department than to have children go to bed hungry, no matter how undeserving of help we may feel that child's parents are.

Northwestern University and the Sears YMCA Jobs for Youth program in the Lawndale area of Chicago. Centers will be located in Chicago, Champaign, Decatur, Peoria and Rockford.

The conference is a fine example of government and private citizens working together in one of what must be a myriad of campaigns all designed to fulfill the great goal of this state—the fullest and most prosperous employment of our people.

By the Rev. Fr. Edmond E. Hood

The man who claims that there is no such thing as an honest man, is merely telling others what he thinks of himself.

Reputation is mainly composed of what we are when we think we are being watched. Character is what we are when we think nobody we know is watching.

God has never made gold enough to make a selfish man rich.

Let the time come when people will be no more afraid of excitement in church than they are in politics, and the foundation of Hell will begin to quake!

A Few Helpful Hints For The Perplexed Parents

By Pearl Kapell

Everybody wants to get into the act.

And everybody is an expert on child-rearing these days.

An informative little document came across my desk the other day. It's written by a Director of Juvenile Delinquency Research. This sounds very impressive. The subject dealt with in this little pamphlet is Discipline. The guiding principles laid down by the gentleman were reached after a poll of fifty families.

In the first place, this is the coward's way out. Polling fifty families is a comparatively easy task, with time out for meals, sleep, etc.

I would have had more respect for the gentleman's opinion if his conclusions had been formed by spending, say, ten years in close and continual contact with the problem at hand—children—for 24 hours a day, seven days a week, etc. This is how mothers reach their conclusions.

Of course, all experts agree that if there's one class of people who know absolutely nothing about raising children, it's mothers. Mothers, themselves, have been told this so many times by so many different experts—including their own children, once they're big enough so that they dare to—that they're finally beginning to believe it.

So they turn to experts, such as the aforementioned one. And get gems of wisdom to guide their faltering steps.

In the interest of parent education, I will quote some of the rules for turning babies into the kind of adults whom we meet every day. (A pretty horrible thought, isn't it?)

The first sage observation made by the expert is, "There is no magic formula to make children behave." This will certainly surprise mothers.

The booklet wanders on through several paragraphs packed with Helpful Hints. Like "Parents often do not realize that spanking, scolding, or threatening rarely work." They don't!

Anyway, here's the meat of the article—8 Rules for Raising Your Child Right. I will add a few comments of my own, because, obviously, parents might need help to interpret them.

1. Do not set standards too high.

All experts seem to agree that this is a practically fatal mistake. Think of the mothers of yore, smugly unaware of their ignorance, practically forcing their children into delinquency by impressing on their sons, that they, too, could grow up to be President. It's a good thing the kids hadn't heard about delinquency—there would have been a frightful crop of them.

2. Stress the child's accomplishments.

This is along the same line as No. 1. Don't bawl him out because he's four years old and can't put his socks on. Praise the things he has managed to do. He walks (doesn't he?) And he can climb from the chair to the table to the kitchen cupboard. And he talks, and asks questions like, "Why's the moon come out at night?" He's no stupe. It's not his fault you don't know the answer. And how about last week when he figured out all by himself how to release the emergency brake on the car and shift it into neutral when you left it Spring Prom bids will soon be out! Graduation dances are being dreamed about. However something else is about to make its appearance, the Class Reunion!

Peculiar how, as the years roll by, this social event becomes the one dearest to the hearts of most of us. Balding heads and graying temples quickly fade out of view, dimmed by the laughter of the "good old days." This brief respite from our lives of today, to step back into the pages of our school annual for a short while, is indeed one tradition which I personally shall fight to hold onto.

THE LATEST REPORT: That "This Is Your Life" skit about Miss Nickelson at the Talent Show Saturday night brought forth another talented Ryan (son of Mac Ryan) doing a PERFECT impersonation of J. F. K. . . . looking a little like a blushing bride, is our own Chief of Police cruising around in that new pure white FoMoCo squad.

... just a tip to that same white auto, it's agin' the law to drive with parking tickets! . . . hope we aren't going to have an epidemic of them, but this week kindergarten teacher Alice Brown has a broken ankle. . . . neatest trick of the week was done by "quick change-of-address artists" the S & S Tailors who are now located at the corner of Lake and Victoria Sts.

THE LATEST DROP: Remember "Wrong Way Corrigan"? Well, Louie Nielsen says, "He's got nothing on me." Louie and his lovely wife Annabelle were planning a vacation in Florida, but she was to leave one day via a certain flight and he would follow the next day on a second flight. Somebody goofed, (and we can't imagine who) for when Louie stepped out of the plane he took, he found himself at Idlewild Airport in New York City instead of Porto Rico! . . . Johnny-on-the-spot must have been Pete Matteoni, for right after the announcement that applications were being taken for policemen on the village force, yours truly saw Pete in Uniform. . . . Hizzonor being present at the opening of the Roller Rink last week may be an indication of an increased interest in public relations.

G. L. Board Reviews School Bus Proposal

The Board of Education of Channel Lake School reviewed the results of a survey made in the district on the attitude of voters of the district on 2 questions: whether they would approve a raise in the tax rate to maintain a school bus and whether they would approve a raise in the educational tax rate for general expenses of the school.

The survey, signed by about 185 voters, showed about fifty per cent for a bus service and fifty per cent against it. Signers almost unanimously approved the raise in the educational tax rate.

The board took no action on either proposition. A board member said they are leaving survey sheets at the two gas stations in the neighborhood and at Harris' store, as they wish to get the opinions of more voters before deciding whether to put the matters to a referendum.

The board also voted to postpone their next regular a magazine at your local shop: Any magazine. You're sure to find some article to tell you you're going about this business of child-raising all wrong. Or ask a neighbor. If urged a little, she's sure to tell you what you're doing that's wrong. It's a good way to end a friendship, too.

Or ask practically anyone. But for heaven's sake, don't make the mistake of being over-confident and thinking that you can deal with the problem of Johnny's leaving his pajamas on the floor by yourself. There's probably a good psychological reason for it. Maybe he hates the pajamas. Or the floor. Or you. Or maybe it's easier than picking them up.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU BURKIN

The Democrats may not accomplish anything else by putting party slates in township races in various areas of the county, but they have managed to create new interest in these elections.

Candidates who aspire to a seat on the Lake County Board of Supervisors are expected to hold up some major board projects for close scrutiny, not the least of which is apt to be the new courthouse.

Democrat candidates from the western part of the county will no doubt question the wisdom of the present location and many of them will pick up the arguments against the proposed complex used by Deerfield Supervisor Frank Peers and his "voice" John Balen of Waukegan.

The proposed new zoning ordinance should also become an issue in the township campaigns, particularly in those areas where an incumbent is seeking re-election to the county board.

This issue should really confuse the voters since it is unlikely that anyone in the county right now can take a recognizable position on the ordinance.

At the present time the ordinance appears to be headed for a rough time of it and will probably undergo extensive revision before it is presented to the board for passage.

Ordinarily, you could expect the supervisors to accept the recommendation of the planning commission without too much discussion because the commission is a creature of the board, but this certainly will not be the case in regard to the land use code.

The Forest Preserve District, the Public Works Department, and the Health Department are just a few of the issues available to candidates for the county board, to say nothing of that contract to lease data processing equipment from International Business Machines.

State Sen. Robert Coulson, who hid his legislative light under a barrel as a State Representative, is apparently taking a page from the political handbook of Cong. Robert McCloy. A steady stream of releases is being sent to area newspapers recounting the activities of the new solon in Springfield, a device used extensively and successfully by our representative in Washington.

And, of course, Cong. McCloy misses no opportunity to tell his constituents in the 12th Congressional District that he is hard at work in their behalf.

One of the charges leveled against Sen. Coulson in last spring's Congressional primary was that he had few affirmative accomplishments in his record whereas McCloy was recognized as one of the Senate's most prolific bill introducers in the legislature.

Sen. Coulson apparently recognizes the need for a more positive legislative approach and is keeping busy informing the voters of his district that he is also busy in their behalf.

And while these representatives are busy being busy, there is great activity on the home front for Max Wildman, whose maiden outing as a candidate revealed him as a potent vote-getter.

Wildman is busy speaking before Republican groups and non-political groups throughout the three-county district and if nothing else he will keep Rep. McCloy from getting complacent about his campaign for re-election a year from now.

The legislature hasn't even started to re-district the legislative districts in Lake County and already potential candidates for the new district are at work.

Since the line of demarcation is almost certain to run east and west somewhere in the neighborhood of Rte. 176 or Rte. 137 three new representatives will be elected from the new southern district.

Would anybody like to wager a small token that the names of County Treasurer Karl Berning and County Board Chairman Robert Dickson won't appear on the Republican primary ballot for this race?

KEEP YOUR MIND ON YOUR DRIVING

A motorist cannot keep facing life unless he keeps his eyes on the road. Lots of single car accidents happen at leisurely speeds, on an open highway, with little or no traffic in sight. According to the Institute for Safer Living, the danger lies in relaxing a little too much, allowing attention and eyes to wander to more interesting scenery or activities along the roadside. If you catch yourself doing this, get back to the business of driving. It's a full time job even if there isn't another vehicle within miles.

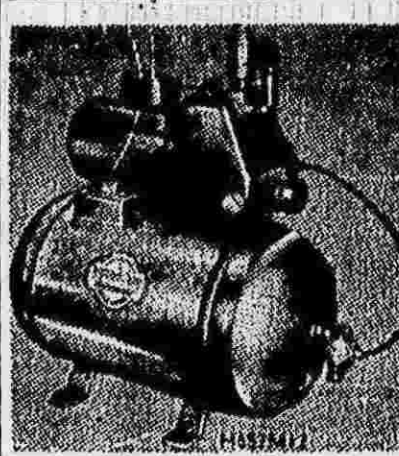

A safe driver, says the Chicago Motor Club, always will reduce his speed whenever approaching a leaf fire at the curb. Wind conditions often can obstruct your overall view of the area. Don't blindly assume the road ahead is clear. Instead, anticipate the possibility of the smoke obscuring someone in the street or road. Play it safe—when you see the smoke signal, slow down.

And there was the cannibal who told his psychiatrist: "I'm fed up with people."

Here are some samples:

Faith Builds a Cross Atop a Mountain

ALTO PASS, Ill. — The Cross of Peace that towers 111 feet in skeleton form atop Bald Knob Mountain in southern Illinois will be completed this year in the same manner in which it was started—on faith.

Since 1954 more than 60,000 persons in the United States and other countries have contributed $170,000 to give near-reality to the dream of a rural mail carrier, Wayman Presley of Makanda, Ill., and a country preacher, the Rev. William H. Lively of Glendale, Ill.

Construction has been on a pay-as-you-go basis for the 830-ton concrete base and the 170-ton steel framework. Four huge floodlight boxes, each with ten powerful lights, will make the Cross visible at night over a 7,500 square mile area.

Advertising interests once would have contributed $250,000 for the non-sectarian project, but the offer was turned down on the theory that the Cross could be a symbol of the united feelings of the people only if it were built by small donations from many sources. Now with success so near, the 10-member governing board of the Bald Knob Christian Foundation, Incorporated, with headquarters at Makanda, has accepted a $40,000 loan from The Bank of Marion (Ill.) so that the huge symbol may be clothed in a sheath of porcelain-covered steel by summer.

Principal security for the loan is faith. Directors of the bank and the Foundation know it will be paid—in small donations. That is the history of the Cross.

Money came slowly nine years ago, and there were those who called the idea preposterous. But Presley, Rev. Lively and a few dedicated recruits would not give up.

The first big financial break came in 1955 when the Makanda mail carrier was featured in Ralph Edwards' TV show, "This Is Your Life." Viewers from every state and several foreign countries mailed in donations that topped $100,000.

Then came the "pig money," $30,000 of it, when more than 1,500 farmers in Illinois raised pigs and donated the receipts. It was another story of faith and hard work that began when a hill-country widow, Myrta Clatts pledged $100 without knowing where it would come from. Shortly afterward her sow farrowed 21 pigs, a record number for the Cobden area.

Presley saw in this minor "miracle" a modern version of the Biblical "Widow's mite." He fenced in the widow's small hill farm and began multiplying the monstrous litter into hundreds of pigs. Then with a home-made trailer he distributed the pigs after he made his daily rounds on the rural mail route. Often he drove far into the night. When the pigs grew to market size and were sold, the money came back for the Cross.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs endorsed the project, numerous organizations contributed and small donations were mailed to "The Cross" at Cairo, Ill., from far and near. Eleven Chinese girls in Hawaii sent a dollar each, children gave weekly allowances and women picked strawberries and "took in sewing" to help the cause.

Names of all donors including those who help to repay the final $40,000 will be recorded in the Dedication room on the lower floor inside the Cross. Eight hundred bronze plaques will be hung for donors of $100 or more.

"What will it mean, this shining Cross atop Bald Knob near the picturesque village of Alto Pass in the Union County hills?"

Says Presley, "This great beautiful Cross, standing above us near the population center of the land, will be a constant reminder of the presence of God. It will be an ever-present inspiration as we work and pray for peace."

The Cross will have a secondary meaning, too: that in the southern Illinois hill country a rural mail carrier, combining faith with unrelenting effort, could find thousands of friends willing to help attain a beautifully significant

Search For Immunity To Common Cold

Over a thousand pints of blood were collected for Great Lakes Navy recruits on December 6 and 9 as the first phase of a major scientific study by the Navy and American Red Cross. The study may provide the first clue to the long sought preventive for the common cold and other widespread respiratory diseases.

The test project is being conducted by Navy Medical Research Unit Four at Great Lakes and the American Red Cross.

The test, which will be completed next Spring, began with the massive blood collection from Navy recruit volunteers. The collection was conducted by the Badger Red Cross Blood Center staff of Madison, Wis.

The project will evaluate the use of hyperimmune gamma globulin in the prevention of respiratory infections among recruits at Great Lakes. The gamma globulin antibodies are formed in the blood of individuals who have had an infectious illness. These antibodies help the patient to overcome his illness and protect him from contracting it again in the immediate future.

The hyperimmune gamma globulin will be administered to the incoming recruits who have not had respiratory infection to see if it will prevent their contracting it. If these results are positive, the researchers feel the development of an effective vaccine against respiratory disease is a definite possibility.

The theory has been tested before with other types of diseases, but this will be the first application to respiratory infection.

The 1,035 pints of blood collected here will be processed at the private facility under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

Returned to Great Lakes in February, the antibody substance will be injected in varying dosages to 3,000 newly reporting recruits. The incidence rate of respiratory infection will be compared between the different dosages, and against that of non-treated personnel.

It will take from six to eight weeks to complete the evaluation. Statistical results will be reported to the Navy Bureau of Medicine and the scientific community.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

WHAT IS DISCIPLINE? By Alma B. Auerbach Assistant Director

Child Study Assn. of America

If you ask parents, "What is discipline?" you'll get a variety of answers.

"It's making a child behave," some will say. Or, "It's teaching a child how to act," or "It's making him learn obedience." Or more specifically, "It's punishing him if he doesn't do what I tell him to, when I tell him to."

Their words seem to imply that children need to be punished in order to learn and that they will learn only when something unpleasant happens to them.

Yet, if we look more closely, we see that youngsters often learn best without being directly taught. They get their clues from the behavior of those who care for them. Even a small child knows when you are pleased with him and when you are not. He knows this by the look on your face and the tone of your voice, by the way you help him with his sweater, or put his plate down in front of him.

Children of all ages give up many things they want to do or have, in order to win and keep their parents' approval. They do this without knowing it themselves. They learn what to do and what not to do from the very love their parents give them.

Parents seldom recognize how much of this adjustment goes on quietly every day, and how a child's pleasant feeling of being accepted and approved smooths the way for his learning.

In order to learn, a child needs, first, the freedom to grow, to find out for himself, to become independent. He must have the chance to explore the world around him, and to experiment with all kinds of activity at his own pace. For this he needs help and encouragement from his parents.

And second, he needs control. He needs to know that

MORAL DECLINE

"I look upon our country and much that I see disturbs me. But we are a great people. We have much to teach the world, and if America should go down soon it would be too early."

"One thing is certain. We shall be given no centuries for a leisurely and comfortable decay. We have an enemy now—remorseless, crude and cocky. However much the leaders of the Communist conspiracy may lie to their subjects about our motives, about our conditions of prosperity, about our policies and aims, one thing they believe themselves implicitly—and that is that we are in an advanced state of moral decline...."

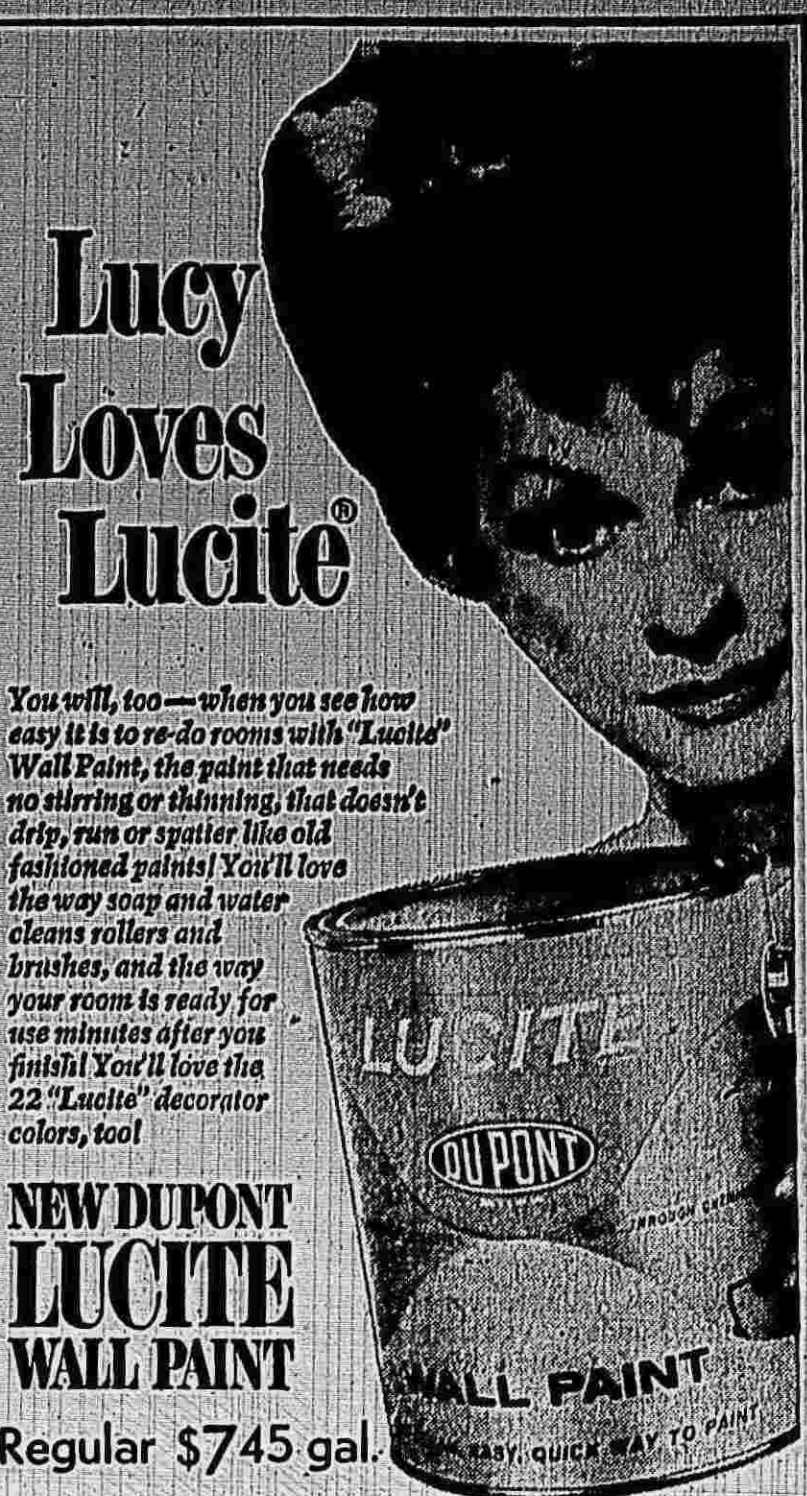

"We can learn a lesson from history. Twice before our British cousins appeared heading into a collapse of principle, and twice they drew themselves back. The British court reached an advanced stage of corruption under the Stuarts. But the people rebelled. And in the wild days of George IV and William IV it looked as though Britain were rotting out again. But the people banded through the reform laws, and under Victoria went on to the peak of their power."

"In this hour of fear, confusion and self-doubt let this be the story of America. Unless I misread the signs, a great number of our people are ready. Let there be a fresh breeze, a breeze of new honesty, new idealism, new integrity." — Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune, reprinted in Prophetstown Echo.

there are limits to what he can do, and must understand to some degree why limits are necessary. For this, too, he needs his parents' help.

With encouragement and direction, children can accept the standards parents have for them and gradually take over these standards as their own. This is how children learn to decide for themselves what is right or wrong, and eventually to develop self-control.

And so, in time, discipline becomes self-discipline.

Class For Inquirer's at St. Ignatius

Confirmation classes for children, and Inquirer's classes for adults will begin this weekend at the Parish Church of St. Ignatius of Antioch.

Classes for children will be held in the Parish Hall on Saturday afternoon, March 9, from 1 to 2 p.m. Inquirer's classes for adults will begin on Sunday evening, March 10, in the Parish Hall, from 8 to 9 p.m.

Contents of the course for adults will include: Theology, Holy Scripture, Church History, the Sacraments, and Apologetics.

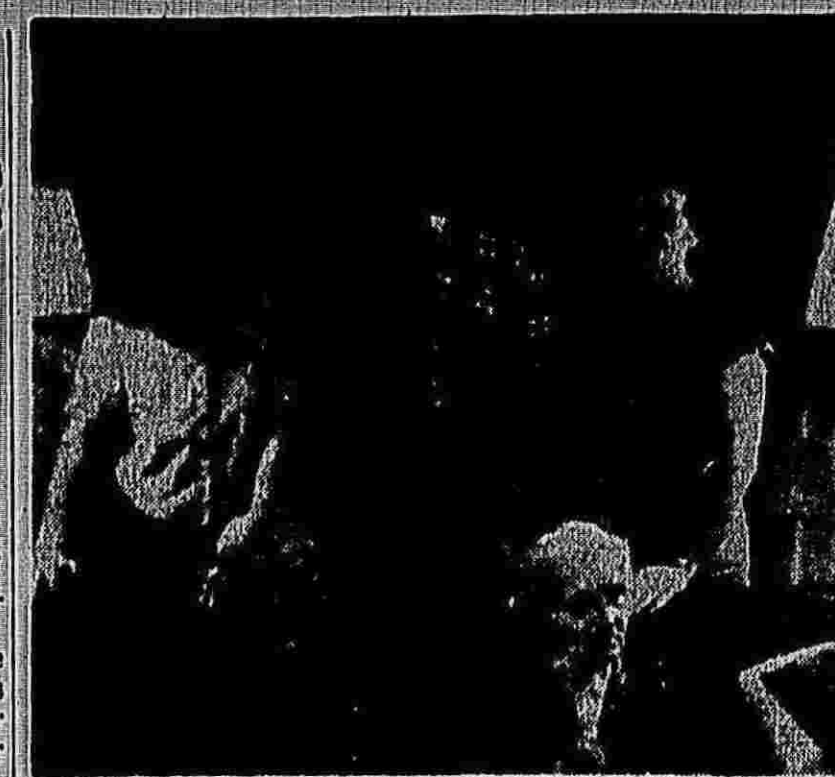

Have you ever considered the Episcopal Church? The Episcopal Church has a long history, an unbroken succession from Jesus Christ. The Episcopal Church keeps that history and those Sacraments ordained by Christ. The worship of the Church is the most worthy that men can use to reach God; the devotional life of the Church is rich, to satisfy that soul longing for God. The Anglican or Episcopal Churches hold to Apostolic Faith and Order, without addition or subtraction.

This and more about the Church is explained in the classes which begin this weekend. You are most welcome to attend these classes to learn what this Church teaches; there need be no hesitation... half the growth of the Episcopal Church is through converted adults!

Everyone will be most welcome!

Sequoits End 1963 Season

Lose First in Regional

The Antioch Sequoits rang down the curtain on the 1962-63 basketball season Monday night by virtue of a 53 to 42 loss to the Wauconda Bulldogs.

The loss knocked the Sequoits out of the 1963 Regional Tournament currently being held at Mundelein High School. The game was a rubber match between the two clubs as the Sequoits lost to the Bulldogs early in the season and then avenged the loss later by whipping Wauconda 82 to 79 at Antioch.

Coach Roger Andrews commented that "we rebounded well and played good defensively, I thought, but we just couldn't shoot!" The Sequoits hit for a meager 23% from the field, far below their season's average, making only 14 of 62 attempts.

The first quarter ended with Wauconda leading 13 to 9 as both squads had trouble finding the range. The Bulldogs stretched their lead by another six points in the second period outpacing the Sequoits 16 to 10. The score read 29 to 19 at intermission.

Poor shooting continued to plague the Antioch quint in the third quarter as they dropped another 3 points with the score 43-30 going into the final stanza.

Antioch out-scored the Bulldogs for the only time in the game, coming up with 12 points to 10 for Wauconda for the final 93-42 margin.

Antioch out-rebounded Wauconda 42-37 but were hurt by turnovers. The Sequoits gave up the ball 8 times in the second quarter without getting a shot off.

Antioch fared a little better from the free throw line but were still below their normal output. They cashed in on 14 of 25 attempts for a 60% clip.

The Sequoits did a good job on defense, holding the Bulldogs to 53 points, far less than their 70 point average. Standouts in this department were Doug Lang and John Hallwas. Bernie Smith, making his debut on the varsity after playing with the Soph squad all season, also helped in holding high scoring Mike Freund to 2 baskets.

Al Grudl, although playing only part of one quarter, was lauded for his aggressive all out play.

Stock Car Rules For '63 Season

The 1963 Rules and Regulations governing both Modified and Sportsman stock cars for the coming season have been published. The regulations, which were drawn up by the joint efforts of the area promoters and a representative group of the Milwaukee Stock Car Racing Association, will be in effect at the following co-operating tracks during the 1963 campaign: Cedarburg Raceway, Fair Park Speedway, Hales Corners Speedway, Slinger Speedway, and the Waukegan Speedway.

Only minor deviations from last season's regulations have taken place, and each further improves the safety of the car and driver. Among them are the (1) Requirement of a full-floating rear end (which will keep the rear wheels on the car should the axle break; (2) Centralization of the off on switch in order to enable the driver to reach it while strapped in with seat belt and harness and (3) A stricter enforcement of a right-hand safety hub (specially designed to take excessive stress and strain without breaking.

Sportsmen type cars are limited to 1949-1957 type steel top automobiles. Improvements in the Sportsmen's class concern safety. Late model cars from 1958 and up vintage are scheduled to be included in the 1963 race programs.

Other major safety features, such as solid steel roofs, buried fuel lines, full firewalls and floorboards, white wheels, seat belts, steel plated bell housing shields, fan shroud, self starter, and the like, will again be retained.

The 20 pages booklet also lists several track regulations and policies, heretofore practiced, but never put in print.

Copies of the 1963 Regulations are available at the Midwest Speedways, Inc., office, 6127 West Blue Mound Road, Milwaukee 13, Wis.

Neil Carney Takes 2nd With 735

Neil Carney, Antioch, whacked the pins for a resounding 735 series in the closing minutes of the big Men's Tournament at the Antioch Bowl Sunday night. His big series put him in second place in the contest, with only 15 pins separating him from the first-place winner, Herman Simonis of Chicago.

One more strike in the string of hits in the third game would have given Neil the top spot, but a light hit broke up the string. Neil picked up the spare and struck out to place second.

Names of further official winners are unavailable until tournament officials have checked and verified averages.

Night Boating Is Great New Way to Relax

By Hank Bowman (Courtesy Sequoit Harbor)

There is a mystic fascination surrounding nighttime cruising. Waterways, shoreline and sky offer a placidness and peace wholly different from the same setting by day. The beauty of paths of light over the water, stars that seem closer and brighter than they do from the land, the twinkling lights of navigational markers and the muted sounds of bellbuoys or activity ashore offer a restfulness that no boatman should miss. Most pleasure boat owners work regular hours, and often feel that their boating must be limited to weekends. Yet, even a short evening cruise during the week is rewarding.

In more remote areas the twilight hours are the time when the animals move down to the shoreline for their evening drink. At night on the water a boatman can put his ears to use, thrill to the sound of leaping fish, the night calls of birds or the gentle lap of waves against the boat's side while he prepares a picnic dinner afloat, or beaches his boat and starts a campfire.

No boat owner need fear operating at night. Carry all of the safety, navigational gear, spares and accessories you would want for daytime cruising. Add a portable searchlight as well as a flashlight. With the searchlight you can pick up unlighted channel markers, check the water for driftwood or in un-

WANTED—Would like to buy 5 - wheeled garbenstangle. Must have right-handed zoenstiff with power dipollock. Write Box G, c/o The Antioch News, 928 Main St., Antioch, Ill. (34-35)

THIS AD BROUGHT LOADS OF FUN AND LOTS OF REPLIES

For your enjoyment, we have printed a few of the replies below...

All Concerned:

I realize that any request of this kind has to be made by an ORGANIZATION because, to be the sole owner of a first class one of the latest model GARBENSTANGLE IS MUCH to involved for any single HEAD.

NOW THEN!!! I have for your inspection one which is of a model that I should elaborate upon, as we know this EQUIPMENT is rather EX-TINCT. Yes, it has 5 WHEELS, ALL GOOD AND STRAIGHT. It is one of the few. You asked for a right-handed ZOEN-STIFF. IT IS!

Now due to your FLATNESS of description as to the power of the DIPOLLOCK, I can assure you this model I have is the latest. POWER, YES, but it is of a power conversion which you would have to inspect to BELIEVE. Not FLUID, or HYDRO, nor even DYNO, but sheer POWER!!!

As I know this equipment, the power conversion to the DIPOLLOCK, makes the GARBENSTANGLE what it is.

So if you care to view the OPERATION of the same, place an ad in the paper for appointment or answer to:

Buck Gillum
146 5th Ave., R.R. 5
Antioch, Illinois

Glad to help (signed) BUCK Mr. W. B. Gillum WBG/mog

Dear Sir:

I have a 5-wheeled Garbenstangle but it has a left handed zoenstiff with power dipollock.

If you are real interested I will sell for a good price.

Please phone 395-0864

Mrs. Gutowski What some people won't do for mail!!

Ha! Ha!

Dear Sirs,

In reply to your ad in the Buyer's Guide I would like to say that you are in luck. I have one of the few 5-wheeled garbenstangles left in this part of the country. My garbenstangle came stock with left-handed zoenstiff but I converted it to the right with little difficulty. There is one slight dent in the zingenbanger. The operation of the machine is not affected by this. I am willing to part with my favorite machine for a reasonable price. I am sure you will take good care of it.

Sincerely,

Melvin J. Furd esq.

P. S. My garbenstangle is yellow with black stripes and was made in 1951. MF:sw

Gentlemen:

I offer for your inspection a five-wheeled garbenstangle in perfect condition. The many uses to which this item can be put are, of course, countless. You are no doubt aware that five-wheeled garbenstangles in good condition, particularly those with right-handed zoenstiff and power dipollocks are increasingly hard to find.

Pride of ownership, pleasure in using, are things I would not willingly give up. However, due to the fact that we are remodeling and present plans call for the left-handed model, I am forced to part with this invaluable treasure. No reasonable offer will be refused.

Please call 395-3418 for further information about the above mentioned article.

Your truly,

Martha E. Greer

Editors note: We called Mrs. Greer to check on certain features of her garbenstangle, and discovered that she has the 1957 model and that it is robin's-egg blue.

Dear Sir:

I have a Garbenstangle that I have had excellent success with for several years. It is in fine condition. Please make an offer.

Dear Sir:

In regards to your want ad in the Antioch News of February 21st, I am certain I have just what you are looking for. Please contact me at 27 Hipplemacklen Lane which is just south of Drappenkiggle Drive on Carramoura Lake.

Though I have treated my garbenstangle with the loving care of a true zugusmite, I am sure we can come to reasonable terms. Its wonderful condition will truly amaze you. You must see it to appreciate it!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Jeremiah Oglsby

P. S. Sorry, I have no phone.

Dear Sirs:

I noted with interest your ad for a five-wheeled garbenstangle. I have one, and have been trying to find a mate to it for some time. I wonder if you have located one through your ad.

As you probably realize, a matched pair is considerably more valuable than one garbenstangle alone. Mine has the right handed zoenstiff, and I would particularly like a matching one with left-handed zoenstiff.

If you should hear of one of the type which I am seeking, I would appreciate your contacting me. I had begun to consider the search hopeless. I would be willing to pay up to $5.00 for a garbenstangle in good condition. If, however, you should care to purchase the one I have, I would sacrifice it for a mere $5,000.00 Unless I can find a mate for it soon, I'm afraid I will have to consider the search hopeless.

Sincerely,

Caphlunk
